

CS 125 Intro to Programming with Java

- Introduce myself
- Introduce the class
- Teaching style and requirements
- What you expect from me
- What I expect from you
- What you will learn from this class
- How you can succeed from this class
- Questions and discussion

Introduce Myself

- ▶ Background information
 - ▶ Educational background
 - ▶ Ph.D. and Masters from Illinois University at Carbondale
 - ▶ Mechanical Engineering in Tsinghua University
 - ▶ Teaching experience and expertise
 - ▶ Taught CS and Java since 1997
 - ▶ Full and tenured professor
 - ▶ Office and lab hours
- ▶ Any questions?
 - ▶ Email me using Canvas message system
 - ▶ Email me at: ygao@ohlone.edu or ygao_ohlone@yahoo.com

Introduce to the Class

- ▶ Click on Syllabus in Modules of Canvas , you will see:
 - ▶ Description of the class
 - ▶ Objectives
 - ▶ Prerequisite
 - ▶ Grading
 - ▶ Work requirement
 - ▶ Course schedule with links to the presentation slides of each chapter, and
 - ▶ Disciplines

Teaching Style and Requirements

- ▶ Learn how to learn
- ▶ What, why, and how
- ▶ Online class with personal help
- ▶ Flexible
- ▶ Minimum requirement
 - ▶ Four application Labs for covered chapters
 - ▶ Ten open discussion questions
 - ▶ A Midterm
 - ▶ A Final
- ▶ Challenge
 - ▶ Online learning
 - ▶ Teamwork for project
 - ▶ Creative and critical thinking
 - ▶ Independent study

How You Can Succeed in The Class

- ▶ Attend class meetings (for hybrid) as required
- ▶ Follow the instructions
- ▶ Plan ahead
- ▶ Participate online chat/discussions
- ▶ Submit in labs on-time
- ▶ Communication
- ▶ Teamwork
- ▶ Honesty
- ▶ You earn the grade, not I give you

What Do You Expect from Me?

- Questions and suggestions? Please post them in the Discussion Board or email me via Canvas Messages or ygao_ohlone@yahoo.com